COL. R. P. MORGAN, JR.

To THE BLOOMINGTON LEADER.—A new Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners having been confirmed by the Senate, my term of office is thereby ended. I beg leave to make a statement in regard to my relation to that Commission which, under the forms of official reports, could not be properly made. The Commission was unhappily constituted in the beginning. Mr. Kœrner, who was appointed as its legal member, and upon whose professional attainments it was expected that the Board would mainly rely, was early found, whilst possessing ample knowledge of his duty, to be acting as in the interest of the various railroad corporations of the State, and proved to be a dead weight and drags upon all the efforts made by the other members of the Commission to enforce the laws of the State, regulating the rates of charges by railroads

In spite of the strenuous efforts of himself as Chairman and legal member of the Commission to stifle judicial investigations, and thus prolong the decision of the right of the people to control the railroads of the State, the case commenced in the McLean County Court has been pushed through to a decision in the Supreme Court, and only failed in recovering final judgment of forfeiture and ouster by reason of certain formal defects in the freight act of 1871, which, it is said by good authority, may be easily remedied.

The right of the State to control all its railroad corporations is, it seems, abundantly established by this decision of the Supreme Court, and while the formal judgment was in favor of the railroad company paosecuted, yet the substantial decision upholds the right claimed by the Legislature to control and regulate the charges of railroads for the transportation of property, so as to prevent unjust discriminations and extortions.

When the views of the Supreme Court shall be met, and the act of 1871 modified in some of its details, and suggested, then the various railroad companies of the State will be subjected to such just control as the wisdom of the Legislature and the interests of the people at large may seem to demand.

I am happy in believing that under our form of government, nothing is more certain, the experience of Great Britain and Belgium to the contrary notwithstanding, and the Dartmouth College decision also, than that the railroad corporations of this State and the country at large will be brought into just relations with the necessities of the people, by laws having due regard for the rights of such to the other.

These corporations will be required to conduct their business with thorough economy and sound system, in lieu of the present vicious transportation melee, the outgrowth mainly of the foolish strifes of dishonest railroad manipulators, and will be permitted to make just dividends only upon the actual capital really invested, the result of reasonable rates and intelligent and economical management. Profitable and unprofitable business will not be allowed to be thrown together indiscriminately as now, and aggregate earnings, without limit of law, lumped out, with no certain knowledge of their details, except that wrongful discriminations have been made against all unprotected communities, and extortionate rates charged in all possible cases.

My knowledge, obtained as a member of the Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners, since its organization, convinces me that with proper modifications of the laws, indicated by experience, the Commission may be made highly useful to the interests of the people at large, both in reference to its control over the railroads of the State, and also as to the inspection, receipt and transfer of grain in the warehouses of Chicago and elsewhere.

A commission properly constituted with persons earnestly resolved to enforce the laws irrespective of private interest, cannot fail to advance the welfare of all the citizens of the State.

In reference to railroads, and warehouses, the board, as contemplated by the law creating it, is doubtless the best form in which to delegate executive powers, for the purposes intended. It is to be hoped therefore, that no change will be made in this regard, at least until a more thorough demonstration shall have been made by the new board, with amended laws and a suitable appropriation of money to enforce obedience to them.

In conclusion, permit me, through your paper, to thank all those friends who have so kindly expressed their confidence in me, that my obligations as commissioner were faithfully adhered to and that my official duties were earnestly performed.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS:
Monday Evening, March 17.

BISMARCK'S wife is short and stout, and rather fine looking. She officiates as her husband's clerk and secretary.

THE Advance believes so firmly in the predictions of the weather prophet at Washington that it wants him re-christened "Old Certainties."

THERE is no longer any doubt, says a Washington correspondent, that Judge Richardson, the present Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, will be promoted to the Secretaryship, and that his name will be sent to the Senate early next week.

HUNDREDS of men and boys are engaged at the U. S. Capitol, sending out daily through the mails tons of books and documents for members, who are anxious to have them reach their respective homes before the expiration of the franking privilege

WHILE standing on the scaffold, with the hangman's rope dangling behind him, Driver, the Chicago wife murderer, solemnly attributed the errors of his life, and the dreadful scenes of its closing, to his habitual use of intoxicating liquors. Scores of other felons could truthfully do the same. There is no doubt but that drunkenness is at the bottom of more than half the crimes that are committed. Society cannot afford to accept it as a palliation for offenses, and all men, the young especially should draw from such sickening scenes, a moral not only tacitly admitted, but to be conscientiously acted on.

THE Prairie Farmer says there are men and journals that pretend to look upon the present uprising as an ephemeral movement, born of ignorance and ambition. Ignorance on the part of the farmers, and ambition on the part of the leaders But it should not be lost sight of that the leading political economists and statesmen of the age admit the danger and urge the necessity of immediate action. Agitators, judges, diplomats, the best portion of the press and the ablest of the clergy are aiding in the general awakening. No stronger words, and none carrying a sterner note of warning, have been spoken than were used by Henry Ward Beecher in his late lecture. His summing up was, "It is a question of reformation or revolution." Which do our transportation magnates prefer? Which they will have, very much depends upon their own acts

THE OUTLOOK.

Will there ever come a political millennium in the earth when every nation will rest content with its possessions, nor seek to enlarge its boundaries, when every people will perfectly approve their form of government, and be able to discern in its intricate workings no abuses that loudly demand correction; when every ruler will prove acceptable to his subjects, and when pretenders, conspiracies and revolutions will be heard of no more? There is a golden prediction to that effect, but we fear the day of its realization is sadly remote. Chronic unrest seems to be the normal condition of mankind. The history of the transpiring age is but a somewhat varied reproduction of that of the past. Races or nations spring to sudden power, but the very elements that conduce to their greatness contribute to their ultimate downfall. While one people grows in prosperity and vigor, another imperceptibly decays. While one race consolidates, another disintegrates. Although the principle that any disorganized nation naturally possesses the right to choose its own form of government and its own ruler is now more generally recognized and respected than formerly, armed interventions and wars of succession have by no means ceased to afflict mankind. Kings still aspire to conquests, and subjects to the rank of citizenship. Strong nations scheme against the weak ones, and the weak ones band against the strong. The form of government of no people can be regarded as permanent (save, perhaps, our own), and the geographical outlines of no power can be regarded as unchangeable. Absolute political repose, without signs of innovation, can nowhere be found. Almost every race seems to have just emerged from, or to have just entered upon, a period of transition. "There is no hope for nations!" Byron gloomily wrote while contemplating the faded splendors of Venice. The conclusion is almost too cheerless for acceptation, and yet much of mournful truth is embodied in it The grandeur that is won to-day must be ignobly sacrificed to-morrow. From the perpetual struggles of monarchs and peoples for the ascendancy, from the inexorable throes that all nations must pass through, and from the tenacity with which mankind clings to the hope of more perfect political institutions in the future, let us hope that some hidden and imperishable good will be wrought out and garnered at last—Chicago Journal.

THE PEOPLE MUST CORRECT THE CORRUPTIONS OF THE AGE.

FORSYTHE, March 15, 1873.

EDITORS DECATUR REPUBLICAN:—One of the greatest evils—perhaps the greatest of the present day—is in our sending briefless lawyers and political ring-masters to represent us in Congress, many of them being destitute of the knowledge of the first principles of statesmanship, party cunning and duplicity being their highest attribute or qualification. Raised and nurtured, as many of them are, in cities and villages, they know but little of what national legislation should be. A man, to be a statesman of comprehensive ideas, shold possess a full knowledge of what constitutes the ground work of a nation—prosperity. That he cannot learn from law books, political club rooms, or the banker's back office, for all he learns there is selfishness and wrong.

If I should not be accused of egotism, I would advise new members of Congress to travel between the sessions into the interior of the country—which they can easily do on their numerous passes; then take their satchel in hand and strike off at a tangent from the railroad, and domicile themselves under the roof of some honest farmer, and from him learn the first principles of statesmanship. You may then be able to acquire the first rudiments of your calling, and learn from an honest man that the potato you eat grows in the soil, and not on trees. Then, after your lesson there, hire a horse—or, perhaps, better, your half brother with the long ears—saddle him, or get the farmer's son to do it for you—as you might soil your kids--ride out among the factors and learn something of exchange. You will then learn what that honest man gets for his labor, which is the ground work of national prosperity. Then go still further and learn how things that come from the earth are fabricated, and learn their uses in political and domestic economy. You may then be able to reach as high as the knees of the farmers of Ashland and Marshfield; and when you get that high you will be infinitely higher than you now are; you will be able to inhale from the soles of the feet of those men that the duty of a Congressman is to serve others and not themselves, which is the first step towards the purification of national legislation.

If the people of this country will open their eyes they will see that the path they have been blindly traveling leads to the gulf of dissolution and darkness. Open then your eyes and send to Congress practical men, such as farmers, mechanics, printers, manufacturers, blacksmiths, and men from all callings, that will have patriotism enough to vote for laws for the general good, though they should operate against their individual interest. A few lawyers may season the mess, but the fewer the professionals the better.

Then let the Government add a new department called the department of foreign diplomacy, to manage our foreign legislation. The Supreme Court may be able to keep domestic legislation from overstepping knowledge and reason. The danger that now threatens us will then be dispelled as the mist from the influence of the morning sun, and we will get back to the happy road of economy and honest simplicity in the management of our public affairs. Millionaires will not spring up like mushrooms from the national treasury, nor will large corporations be able to crush the people by intimidation, by commencing suits against them for damages for their own violations of law, honor and equity.

CORN COB.

MAROA ITEMS.

From the News.

Jonah Lingle, Esq., sold a lot of 31 hogs a few days ago to Esq. Carey that averaged 325 pounds. The hogs were only 9½ months old and if any one can beat that we would like to hear from him.

"Jimmy" Young has recovered from his sickness and is out again.

A number of farmers in this vicinity have not finished cribbing their last year's crop of corn.

On Monday, at half-past one o'clock, Kempshall's boot and shoe shop was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was promptly given, and in five minutes, owing to the ready assistance of citizens, the fire was out. The fire company was promptly on the ground, their engine ready for service, but fortunately were not needed

Mr. B Campbell, of Austin township, has been seriously ill, but we learn is convalescing

A number of farmers are sowing spring wheat. Good seed wheat is worth $1,50 a bushel.

The farmers are busily engaged in clearing their lands for spring work

QUINCY, March 15.—The Quincy Agricultural Works burned this evening with a large amount of stock and about two hundred Vandiver corn planters. The fire caught in the office between the roof and ceiling from a defective flue—a high wind prevailing. The promptness and efficiency of the Fire Department saved the adjoining saw mills and lumber yards Loss estimated at $50,000, insurance about $35,000 A large number of men are thrown out of employment.

ST LOUIS, March 15.—It has transpired here that the mail from St. Louis to the east has been robbed several times during the past two months. $50,000 worth of drafts sent from here by the Third National Bank to the National Bank of Commerce, of New York, on the night of January 31st, failed to reach their destination, but have not since been presented.

A MISSOURI railroad conductor got "robbed" of $15,000 a few months ago, and is now building a $10,000 residence

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The Times this morning publishes a long letter from General Fremont, in which he defends himself against the charges made in regard to his connection with the negotiations in Paris of bonds of the Memphis, El Paso and Pacific Railroad. The chief points of his defense are: That the transaction in question did not occur while he was President of the road, but existed at least nine months before he assumed that position; that the French Courts had taken a kind of snap judgment against him, and that whatever may have been the mistake and misrepresentations committed, they originated in Paris and were neither suggested by nor done by him.

The Assistant District Attorney yesterday finished the preparation of the judgment record in the Stokes case. It was sent to Utica last evening for the signature of Judge Boardman. When it comes back the document will be filed in the District Attorney's office as the anti-record in the case upon which argument can be based before the Court of Appeals, at Albany.

A special from London yesterday to the World, says the Earl of Derby is trying to form a Cabinet to be composed of himself as Premier, Disraeli as Chancellor of the Exchequer, Edward Hunt Home, Secretary, Sir Stafford Northcote, Secretary for India, Gathorne Hardy, Foreign Secretary, Marquis of Salisbury, President of the Council, and Cairns, Lord Chancellor. Lord Derby's success is doubtful. If he fails Lord Granville's scratch Cabinet will come in and end with an appeal to the country.

A large number of females visted the Tombs to-day to see Foster. He kept his cell, however, till after the hours for admitting visitors had passed. His wife was not allowed to enter the cell, and stood at the bars nearly all day conversing with her husband. He slept well last night. He refuses to talk on the subject of his sentence. The Sheriff cautioned him against entertaining hopes to which he listened in silence, not uttering a word. Rev. Dr. Tyne visited and conversed with him half an hour to-day, and departed with a sad countenance.

FROM ILLINOIS.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 16—Considerable excitement has been created here by the trial of J. M. Burch, of Illiopolis, in this county, for the killing, of Geo. W. Kendall. Burch was one of the posse called upon to arrest Kendall and his confederates, who were engaged in riotous conduct in the town of Illiopolis. Burch called upon Kendall to halt and surrender, and, upon his refusing to do so, Burch fired a shot and killed him almost instantly. The killing occurred May 10, 1872. Dr. Burch is a gentleman of high character, and has the sympathy of his neighbors. The trial has been in progress four days, and the case was given to the jury last night, who, after an absence of little over half an hour, brought in a verdict of not guilty. The prisoner was discharged.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 16.—Henry Peterson, a farmer, was killed by lightning yesterday morning. He was driving his team, loaded with corn, from the field to his barn when the lightning struck him. His off horse was also killed.

CHICAGO, March 15.—The Trades Assembly held a meeting last night, and indulged in strong speeches in favor of eight hours' work It is evident that our mechanics are growing restless and inclined to join with those in the East in a general movement for higher pay and fewer hours

The newly discovered oil well, near Des Moines, Iowa, is causing great excitement there. A tank is being built and more pipe will be added to carry the oil and water the tank, then the practical test of oil will be made When reopened to-day, the gas made fully as loud as a noise as when first opened, and was plainly heard half a mile distant, and the ground shook and trembled for some rods about the well

The well is exciting great interest in this part of the State, and hundreds visit it daily The bottom of the shaft is 150 feet below the prairie, and fifteen feet below the bottom of the Des Moines river.

LA SALLE, March 15.—The Todd Flouring Mills, owned by Maurice Neustadt, were burned Friday night, Loss $22,000; insurance $2,000. Todd & Son, losses of the mill, lost 1,500 bushels of wheat, besides a considerable quantity of manufactured stock and their books of account. No insurance.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Prominent politicians of the Senate have have brought their united influence to bear on the President to prevent the appointment of Richardson for Secretary of the Treasury. The President has seriously considered their suggestions, to which it now seems probable that he will give heed. The compromise plan was suggested that Richardson be appointed Secretary ad interim, with a view to a change next fall, but it has been discovered that a Secretary ad interim cannot be appointed during the session of the Senate. One result of this hitch is that Mr. Boutwell did not resign at the Cabinet meeting yesterday as he had intended. Only routine business is transacted at the Treasury Department now, and decisions in many importment cases are delayed till the appointment of a successor to Mr. Boutwell.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Soon after the adjournment of Congress, Judge Poland transmitted to General Spinner the certificates of ten shares of Credit Mobilier stock handed to the Credit Mobilier Committee by Oakes Ames, as belonging to Judge Kelley, and Kelley's check for three hundred dollars which he had sent to the committee with the statement that it was the amount paid to him by Ames, and requested that it be sent to the Treasury as property belonging to the Government. Upon examining the certificate of stock, Gen. Spinner finds that it still stands in the name of Oakes Ames, trustee, and has never been indorsed over to anybody else. Judge Kelley requested Mr. Spinner to collect from Ames the dividends due on the stock amounting to several thousand dollars, and to turn the whole amount into the Treasury. Since the discovery that the stock is in Ames' name, Gen. Spinner is of opinion that he cannot collect the dividends due upon it, and he has therefore written to Ames to-day, inclosing a certificate, and requesting him to complete the transfer to Kelley, if the stock, as Ames testified, actually belongs to him. If Amos indorses over the stock, then Spinner will request him to deliver over also the dividens, which, together with Kelley's $300 check, will be entered upon the books of the Conscience fund.

MANY CITIZENS.

DECATUR, ILL., March 15, 1873.

St. Patrick's Day.—To-day, March 17, is St. Patrick's Day, "early in the morning." Just why the 17th of March has been designated as an anniversary of the patron saint of the Emerald Isle, we are unable to state. There seems to be no authentic record of his birth or death.—The year of his birth is variously assigned to the years 377 and 387, of which the latter, if not even a later date is more probable. Of the place it is only known for certain, from his own confession, that his father had a small farm near Bonavem Fabrince; and in one of the ancient lives he is said to have been born at Nemthur; while some writers assign his birth-place to the present Bouglogne-sur-Mer, and again others to a place in the Estuary of the Clyde, (called from him Kilpatrick), at or near the modern Dumbarton. His father, he himself tells, was a Deacon named Calpurnis; his mother, according to ancient biographers, was named Conches, or Couchessa, according to some of those authorities, a sister of St. Martin, of Tours. St. Patrick's original name is said to have been Succath, Patricius being the Roman appellative by which he was known. In his sixteenth year he was seized while at his father's farm of Bonavem Tabernia, by a band of pirates, and with a number of others, was carried to Ireland, and sold to a petty chief, in whose service he remained for sixty years; after which he escaped and went to France, where he became a monk, first at Tours, and afterwards in the celebrated monastery at Lorins. In the year 431 he went to Rome, whence he was sent by the Pope of the day, Celestine, to preach in Ireland—such is the received account of his mission. According to the account of his Irish biographers, he founded 365 churches, and with his own hand baptized 12,000 persons. He died at a place called Saul, near Downpatrick, and his relics were preserved at Downpatrick to the period of the Reformation. The date of his death is much disputed; the Bollandists placing it in 460, while Usher holds it to have been 493.

EXAMINATION AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The committee of examination for the High School, take pleasure in giving, through the columns of your paper, the result of their observations.

An attempt was made to have every room and every recitation visited by some member of the committee, that the report might be as thorough as possible; and though in this we were not fully successful, yet near enough to give us a good idea of each teacher's method and the proficiency of the pupils.

The thorough cleanliness and excellent condition of the buildings, gives a clear indication of the exact discipline secured by the harmony of the Principal and his Assistants in this direction. This was more fully displayed by the order in which the students entered and left the recitation rooms, their respectful deportment and close attention to every request of their teachers.

We were especially pleased with the drill and examinations of the students of tender years in the Primary Department, presided over by Misses Betzer and Leeper. Here thoroughness and exactness, rather than rapidity, seems the motto, and right faithfully have these teachers worked up to it.

The other departments, presided over by Misses Sargent, Cotton and French, and the Principal, Mr. Gastman, each gave evidence of hard work and commendable success. While all the students did well, some we have never heard excelled, in a clear and comprehensive knowledge of the subject and readiness and clearness of the answers to the questions, always difficult, and sometimes puzzling. If we except a little mannerism, that will work its own cure, we can speak in terms of praise of all we saw or heard.

The citizens of Decatur may well be proud of their High School, but in justice to the teachers additional apparatus should at once be added, to facilitate the study of Natural Sciences.

FARMERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Long Creek Township Farmers' Association met pursuant to adjournment, March 14th, 1873.

The Vice President called the meeting to order.

The committee appointed to confer with publishers in Decatur reported.

On motion it was agreed to have two hundred copies of the by-laws printed in pamphlet style. The same committee appointed that had been appointed to confer with publishers.

Mr. G. W. Gabbert presented a resolution that this Association ignore all politics and work solely for the interests of laboring class, which was unanimously agreed to.

The finance committee reported in favor of paying the sum of ten cents for each member to the County Association, for publishing report of proceedings and other expenses.

On motion the report was agreed to.

It was resolved that this Association meet at Bois d'Aarc School House, on Friday next, March 21, at 4 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of nominating a ticket to fill the various township offices for the ensuing year.

Our Association is gaining ground rapidly and is in a prosperous condition; we have nothing to fear, if we go on working for the right; victory will crown our efforts, and rings find out that we mean business.

Adjourned to meet as above stated.
T. QUICKEL, Sec'y.

Thoughts about Poetry—IV.—Poetry is the oldest and fairest child of literature. Whenever the hand of a master touches its golden lyre the magic of its power is felt. It is a "consoler in life; it soothes affliction, it crowns poverty, it rocks asleep sickness, it refines pleasure, it endears loveliness, it embellishes the common and irradiates the lovely." It is an amulet to the sad and lonely; it cheers the laborer in his toil and comforts the prisoner in his cell; it darts into words its own peculiar fire, and aids the spirit to rise above the world of sense to the harmonies of nature, and still upward to the contemplation of the perfect gladness of the celestial land. When the farmer has treasured a few lines in his memory, he may bind his sheaves while his thoughts are regaled. When the sight of Milton's eyes had gone, poetry kindled before his mental vision the flowery fields and shadowed waters of imaginary words, and in lyric verse and tragic notes he depicted his nearer and clearer outlooks into eternity. Men of genius have poured their choicest gifts into the strains of poetry. The graces of the couplet have toyed with the richest splendor of thought. Warblers of rythm have made musical the gush of rapturous words. The lines which memory most loves to recall are those found in the realm of poesy, and we speak them aloud that the ear may listen to the sweet symphony of their silver sound. A mind stored with poetical treasures may be likened to a temple with its sacred altars illuminated by varied lights, from which radiate hallowed influence and mellowed lustre. Along the silent alcoves and niches brilliant ornaments sparkle in royal splendor; star dropped rays, softened in ether, twinkle at the dome; azure gleams, tinctured in pearl, play at the windows. The beautiful, the tender and the true are visitors in the temple; their songs blend with ecstacy and love; their thoughts ascend above the storms of earth, and their hearts are elated with fervent praise. Turmoils, spites and evil tempers find no place in recollection. Pleasing themes only are rehearsed, and are breathed forth so melodiously that they seem voiced by flutes from rosy bowers. Poetry imparts life and gladness to all hearts.

Money Cannot Buy It!

For Sight is Priceless!

The Diamond Glasses,

MANUFACTURED BY

J. E. Spencer & Co., N. Y.,

Which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the world to be the MOST PERFECT, natural, artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond," on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

THE SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLE on which they are constructed brings the core or centre of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are mounted in the finest manner in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose.

THEIR FINISH AND DURABILITY CANNOT BE SURPASSED.

CAUTION.—None genuine unless bearing their trade mark stamped on every frame.

The ever-increasing circulation of this excellent monthly proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs.—Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates every month, we must consider it as one of the educators as well as entertainers of the public mind, for its vast popularity has been won by no appeal to stupid prejudice or depraved tastes.—Boston Globe.

The character which this Magazine possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth and literary culture that has kept pace with, if it has not led the times, should cause its conductors to regard it with justifiable complacency. MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

They are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist: there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No System of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.
